Glades Football Clinic Starts Season Off Right

With the Lions-sponsored Glades Football Clinic last Friday to set the mood, the football season was off to a local start this week.

Though the fur coats, blankets, and other paraphernalia traditional to Northern football games is not a part of Florida football, the hot-dogs and ice cream and all-encompassing excitement are.

The football clinic sponsored by all the Glades Lions' clubs last week brought some $300 in to the football fund, according to the Belle Glade Lions' boys and girls committee. R. E. Howard, Fred C. White, W. T. Parker, Sam Knight, and Sam Lovell were the guiding committee for the clinic.

IST BIG PUMP READY TO GO

Pump No. 1 at the 20-Mile Bend Pump Station 5A of the Central and Southern Florida Flood Control project is ready to be put into operation if needed, according to Colonel H. W. Schull, Jr., Jacksonville district engineer.

When word was first received that Hurricane Edna appeared to be headed for Florida, Schull directed the contractor on the job to work around the clock to get the first pump ready for use in case the hurricane should cause flooding in the agricultural area served by the West Palm Beach Canal.

Completed Monday

Work on installing and connecting up the pump was completed Monday morning. It is capable of pumping 300,000 gallons of water a minute from the West Palm Beach Canal into the conservation area. Two more of the pumps at S-5A are expected to be ready for use in about three weeks.

Work on the other pumps will be delayed if it becomes necessary to use Pump No. 1, Schull said, since use of it will require the removal of fill dikes which now block off the approach and discharge channels to the pump station. Before work could be resumed on the other pumps, the channels would have to be blocked off again and the work area dewatered.

Completion of the pump station with all six pumps operating is scheduled for March 1955. The station will have a pumping capacity of over 2 million gallons a minute. However, full-capacity use will not be possible until the West Palm Beach Canal, between Lake Okechobee and the pump station, is widened and deepened.

CL 12 Work Begins

Work on the lower section, designated Canal and Levee 12, has recently begun by contractor Robert E. Lee and Company of Manning, S.C. Invitations for bids on enlargement of the northern section, designated as Canal and Levee 10, were issued last week by the Corps of Engineers. (Continued on Page 8)

Athletic Council Elects Canipe

PAHOKEE — The local high school athletic council this week planned its procedures for the football season and elected Principal Clyde Canipe chairman for this year.

John Chandler, representative of Pahokee Memorial American Legion Post was appointed to be in charge of policing the athletic field for the football games. He will have the assistance of seven Legionnaires in helping to keep the children off the lines and field. His committee will also be in charge of the flag ceremonies preceding the games.

Paul Tillery, Lions Club representative, will be in charge of the gates, the ticket sales and takers. Vance Denton, Rotary representative, and Leon Spooner of the Elks Club are to be in charge of the reserved seat sections. Melvin Pugh of Canal Point will supervise the public address system and narrate the games. D. L. Hooks of Canal Point Lions Club will be in charge of the passes received at the northeast gate of the field, where visiting bands and officials enter.

Robert O. Lampi, school treasurer, previously reported that the balance on hand in the treasury at the end of the 1953-54 school year was $432. Since the football games of that season made a profit the basketball, tennis and track departments of the school sports went in the red $800.

Planting season in Florida is winter time while the trees are dormant. Plant your pine seedlings this year for your future.

FACE OF THE CROWD, something every team knows is there whether in victory or defeat. This is part of the crowd attending the football clinic.

U.S. VEGETABLE PRODUCTION FORECAST DOWN FOR FALL

Forecasts indicate that the production of U. S. commercial vegetables for market during the early fall period will be 9 per cent less than last year and 5 per cent below average, the USDA reported this week through the agricultural statistician's office in Orlando.

Lighter-early fall crops than in 1953 are in prospect for snap beans, carrots, celery, cucumbers, lettuce, and tomatoes, USDA reported.

The early fall snap bean crop is forecast at 2,417,000 bushels, 13 percent less than in 1953 and 5 percent below average. Hot dry weather in the southern states created unfavorable conditions for the planting and early growth of the crop, and yield prospects are generally below average, according to USDA.

The Sept. 1 forecast of production for early fall celery is for a crop of 1,900,000 crates, estimated at 11 per cent below last year and 18 per cent less than average.

Production of late summer sweet corn is now forecast at 10,611,000 (five dozen ears), 7 per cent less than in 1953 but only slightly smaller than average.

Movement was at a peak from the New England states on Sept. 1 and is expected to taper off during the last half of the month, according to the statistical survey.

JAYCEES BUSY IN FALL ACTIVITIES

BELLE GLADE — The local Jaycees are in a whirl of fall activities, according to their reports at the weekly meeting last Thursday.

Larry Royals and a delegation are working with Clewiston in organizing a Jaycee unit there. W. O. Prescott gave a report on the Ft. Lauderdale Jaycees meeting, and Samuel Burns gave a report on the Stuart Jaycees' dance.

Red team is leading the membership drive. Future meetings of the Jaycees will be held at the Country Club, George Rashley reported, following the okay by the Commission for use of the clubhouse.

Potable Permits Need OK

PAHOKEE — Henceforth all applications for beverage licenses in the City of Pahokee must be accompanied by approval from the police and sanitation departments when presented for action, City Council ruled at its meeting this week.

The quorum present at the regular meeting, including President F. S. Parrish, Robert Simonsen, and Louis F. Mims, decided that considerable time-saving would result if establishments applying for new beverage licenses were checked before the application to Council instead of the previous method of referring them for action and delaying granting or denial by two or more weeks.

The action was the result of two new applications, by Louella Williams and Tom Gaines, and the tabling of a carryover request from Mrs. Lily Chance until the former Tiny Diner is brought up to standard.

Louella Williams was permitted to receive transfer of the Isaiah Bell license until Oct. 1, when a new application must be made. Gaines' application was referred to Police Chief Leon Guthrie and City Building Inspector Frank Thompson.

Equalization For 3
Sitting as a board of equalization, Council heard requests from and refused property assessments of Karl Mindlin, Wiley Tillis, and Mrs. John Dulany for their respective properties on Lake Lane, Salvatore Subdivision, and Shive Island.

At the request of the Pahokee Lions Club, and a petition of several living in Vero Beach, Council decided to work on getting a traffic light for the intersection of Barfield Hwy. and First St. to slow down traffic during the school year. In the meantime, school zone signs are to be added.

Additional residential street stop signs are ready to put up when concrete posts ordered (Continued on Page 8)

Glades C'House On County List

A sub-courthouse for the Glades, and road work in Canal and sub-courthouse, and South Bay are among much-needed improvements listed in a million county program approved last week by county commission.

Because some of the projects will be financed through the county's share of gasoline taxes, county taxes will take a downswing next year from the boost this year to provide funds for improvement, the commission said.

Among local projects in the roads and bridge section of the program to be financed through the county's share of gasoline taxes are Ave. E, Belle Glade, $315,000; Eighth Ave., South Bay, $45,000; Lake Shore Drive, Canal Point, $147,000; Mulkey Rd., Pahokee, $178,000.

In the capital improvements section, Glades projects included a sub-courthouse, $100,000, and the county's share of the proposed health centers, $30,000 for each in Belle Glade and $20,000 total in Pahokee. The latter two, 35% is paid for by the federal government under the Hill-Burton act, with the county and the respective cities splitting the rest of the cost.

Work on most of the projects is expected to be well under way by next year, according to the commissioners.

The spiritual heritage of freedom which belongs to man is set forth in the following selections from the Bible (Galatians 4: 6, 7): "And because ye are the Spirit of his Son into your hearts, crying, Abba, Father. Wherefore thou art no more a servant, but a son; and as such, an heir of God through Christ."

The following passage will be among those read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (223:3): "Sooner or later we shall learn that the fetters of man's finite capacity are forged by the illusion that he lives in body instead of in Soul, in matter instead of in Spirit."

Health TOPICS

SUNSTROKE

Sunstroke, heatstroke, and heat prostration are serious illnesses. Fortunately, they can almost always be prevented by sensible hot-weather care. These conditions occur when the body's heat-regulating system collapses during prolonged heat or overexposure to the sun.

Sunstroke is caused by too long exposure to the hot sun, while heatstroke is due to prolonged oppressive heat, often indoors. Both have the same symptoms and need the same first aid treatment. The most common form starts with a splitting headache. Everything looks red to the victim and he loses consciousness. His temperature rises dangerously—it can go to 110 degrees or higher.

Heat prostration is caused by prolonged heat and humidity, but is very different from heatstroke or sunstroke. The victim is usually conscious, but weak and dizzy. His temperature falls instead of rising, and he feels cold and clammy.

When a person collapses in hot weather, call a doctor at once and move the victim into the shade and loosen any tight clothing. For sunstroke and heatstroke put a pillow under the victim's head and cool him as quickly as possible. Wet his clothes with cold water or put ice packs around his head, neck, and body. Fan him and give him lemonade to keep the blood circulating. If his chattering, keep his head low, and warm his body. Even though the weather is hot, cover the victim with blankets and put hot water bottles around him.

Simple, common-sense precautions will nearly always prevent these conditions. During hot weather, don't expose yourself to the heat for long periods and do not overeat. If you perspire freely, you may need extra water and salt. Children who perspire freely at play should be given salted crackers or salted nuts. The aging, the very young, alcoholics, and people with heart trouble are easily affected by sun and heat. A person who has had sunstroke or heat prostration will collapse more easily a second time.

GOT A SLING SHOT!

Marine M/Sgt. Frank O. Freeman

KOREA (PTMTC)—Many a Marine has heard the cry, "Get the sling shot!" The remark usually refers to one's inability to hit a target. However, one Marine took it seriously, got a sling shot and actually qualified on the regular .45 pistol course at the San Diego Recruit Training Center. He is M/Sgt. Frank O. Freeman of Pensacola, Fla., now serving with the First Marine Aircraft Wing in Korea. He really doesn't need a sling shot since he is a distinguished rifle and pistol shooter, and has been firing in Marine Corps and civilian matches since 1947. Freeman's experience at the San Diego range began when he noticed a young recruit having trouble firing a .45 caliber pistol. Freeman said he thought he could qualify with a sling shot, and did. He used expended .45 caliber slugs and during the rapid fire held four slugs in his right hand. He qualified with a score of 260—not bad shooting with or without a sling shot.

Collegians Tell Of Summer Work

PAHOKEE—Challenging the theory that college is a "four-year loaf made from the dough of old age," Willard McCurdy and Millard Stanley last week addressed the Pahokee Lions Club on the subject of college boys' summer activities.

The program, which was arranged by M. P. Stanley, Millard's father, was designed to show those who have no children in college as yet that the boys nowadays do not follow the old pattern of nine months loafing and three months loafing.

McCurdy, son of Mrs. Annette McCurdy, is a student of entomology at Florida University. He spoke on his six week training camp at Ft. Benning. Along with 100 other college students, McCurdy took the basic ROTC course which culminates in two years' active service.

The training, "which is no loaf," McCurdy said, covers many new courses, in addition to the old, that the Army has found necessary since World War II and Korea. Among these are courses in "night vision" for night fighting and "mine warfare" demonstrating the many uses of mines in modern war. "Some of it was like real war," McCurdy concluded.

Stanley, a student in engineering at Georgia Tech, was anxious to gain some practical experience in his field, has spent the summer in Texas as a "roughneck" on oil fields between Austin and Houston. Working night-shift, Millard was part of a five man crew on his rig. The work was "tough" at times and "being the shortest man in Texas," he guessed, was not exactly a rest vacation.

With a few weeks' grace after his last drill job, Stanley took time to travel to Mexico City and interview the engineers there on loan from the United States for the industrialization of Mexico. "Although there will be no work hard next to only 10 years behind us, they have made remarkable steps," Stanley said. "I was also pleasantly surprised," Stanley concluded, "to find that Communism was believed to be at a minimum in Mexico."

SCIATICA
The term sciatica is used to describe pain down the back of the leg. The condition stems from a variety of causes, the attacks coming on suddenly and unexpectedly following some slight exertion.

For some patients any motion requiring extra pressure to push or pull may bring on a pain in the back which may persist and travel down the back of one leg. The pain in the spine will disappear while that in the back of the leg will continue.

In other persons the history may be entirely different. The pain comes on gradually over a period of weeks and may finally involve both legs with or without pain in the small of the back.

The condition involves the sciatic nerve, which is composed of five parts or roots serving different segments of the lower leg. Painful irritation of any one of the roots will produce pain down the nerve. The condition of irritation may be the result of a "slipped disc" between the vertebrae or a "pinched nerve" on an outside ring of strong fibrous tissue and on fiber sensibility structure. The disc herniates, the sensory sciatic nerve pinches the nerve root at the back of the spine.

Nerve centers in this area form part of the sciatic nerve, the condition called sciatica develops. Sciatica produced in this way is the result of repeated minor injuries to the intervertebral disc which finally gives way and the nerve is compressed. The attacks of pain are constant. Examination will reveal a stiff, sore back and a pulling to one side.

A variety of tests is needed to determine the specific cause of sciatica. Because of the many factors involved and the area of the body covered by the nerve roots, x-ray films are required. If a tumor is suspected, a fluoroscopic examination is necessary.

WASHINGTON AND

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Out in California, evidence is again being presented of old milk that some people given an inch seek a mile.

California, like New York, has a milk control act, which fixes floor milk prices from producer down to retailer through a milk control board.

At present, milk in California is 21½¢ per quart.

The milk control act in California was designed to protect the milk producer from the milk processor. One was that California law C. W. Harder insists on high standards for fresh milk. Dairymen preferred to produce manufacturing milk, rather than meet the rigid fresh milk specifications.

When enacted milk price was by retailers using milk as a loss leader, effected dairyman's prices. Consequently fresh milk supply kept dwindling.

Therefore, a law was passed to insure adequate supplies of fresh milk by guaranteeing higher prices to market milk producers over manufacturing milk. Distributor and retailer prices are also set.

At the time there were a number of independent dairy distributors operating, but their numbers dwindled over the years.

Borden's and Golden State emerged as big leaders. At one time Golden State was headed by Standard Oil executives.

Golden State recently was taken over by nationwide Foremost Dairies who also bought a strong dairy cooperative.

In the meantime, Arden

Farms, headquartered in Los Angeles, with branches up and down the Pacific Coast apparently decided it was not sufficient grocery store distribution, and down the coast, entered the grocery business, buying control of Mayfield stores, a big chain operation in Southern California, which controls Andrew Williams stores, a northern California chain. Arden also bought out four big wholesale grocers.

Thus operations of big dairy combines, especially their ability to buy up whole state of regional and wholesale grocery outlets indicates milk distribution is a profitable business. Some estimate half of California milk retail price goes to distributors.

Now California milk distributing industry asks Milk Control Board to order distributors to charge grocers 25¢ service fee every time milk is delivered. This 25¢ is just a start to ward bigger service fees, it is felt. Although board has not acted yet, no one knows how much pressure politically appointed Milk Control Board can withstand.

So there is a great deal of national interest over what happens in California milk industry, now that control of milk supply is concentrated in very few hands. Recent attempt to charge grocers for selling them milk should be forerunner of a series of attempts to saddle California with one of the tightest, strangest monopoly systems that Western civilization has ever encountered. Some interests with monopoly intentions are attempting to use this as excuse for junking the milk control law. It should be pointed out that this should be the last of the resulting chaos, one, or at the most two, failures would then gain control of the entire state milk industry.

"Drive Dangerously To Die," Sgt. Dugger

CHOSEN — Don't heed the warning "Go Slow" and you can wind up dead on the highway like B. F. De Shazer and James Dennis of Belle Glade did last Saturday on Highway 717 near Chosen, warned Sgt. E. D. Dugger of the Florida Highway Patrol this week.

One of De Shazer's passengers removed the keys from the dashboard of the speeding 1954 hard top Buick and then replaced them. Dugger said. This action plus a plea to slow down went unheeded and De Shazer stepped on the accelerator to 120 mph and removed the keys to his own pocket where they were found on his mangled corpse after the accident, the FHP officer reported.

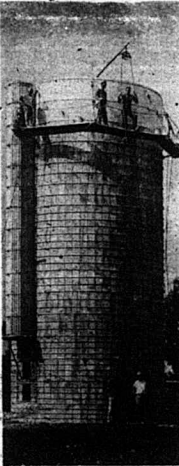

Highway 717 now has two deaths chalked up against it. The dead men were thrown 50 feet and 35 feet from the car, according to Dugger, and the four surviving passengers shorter distances with more fortunate results.

WPB Rotary Hears Observer Staffer

WEST PALM BEACH — Stating that membership in trade and professional associations afforded business men unlimited opportunities for service, Benjamin S. Roberts of the GLADES OBSERVER staff presented a talk to the Rotary Club at West Palm Beach Tuesday at noon.

Roberts also said that trade association membership not only helps raise respect for individual businesses but gives the public an opportunity to identify a given business with a standard pattern and makes individual members more mindful of their responsibilities. Stating that business is the oldest of arts and the youngest of the professions, Roberts said that in its very newness as a profession business has to maintain standards of practice necessitated by the complex and specialization of business practice.

Pointing out that trade associations should be more than mere lobby groups or pressure bodies, Roberts said they must also sponsor public relations programs that will make the public aware of what they are trying to do.

Vice President Dick Pilger presided in the absence of Phil O'Connell and Merton Levinson had charge of the program.

Plans were made Tuesday night at the Pahokee American Legion Auxiliary meeting conducted by Mrs. Betty Holman, president, to assist the Legionnaires with their Sept. 24 benefit barbecue.
